

TURKISH-ENGLISH GLOSSARY

Notes about the glossary

- If the common casual pronunciation of an entry word is different than its written form it is given in between brackets after the entry word: for example, acaba [acaba:] (I wonder).
- Case ending(s) required by an entry word after its object is / are indicated in between parentheses. In the glossary section, (-) indicates the nominative case (no ending), (I) indicates the accusative case, (A) indicates the dative case, (DA) indicates the locative case, (DAn) indicates the ablative case, and (IA) indicates ile: for example, aç- (I) (to open).
- Words written in the same way may occasionally have different meanings on the basis of differing accent patterns. These specific accent patterns are also indicated in the glossary section: for example, artık [artık] (now, henceforth); artık [artık] (left over, remnant).
- (gr.) indicates that the entry word is a term of grammar, for example, edilgen passive (gr.)
- The order of the words in the glossary follows the official Turkish alphabet.
